Stanislaus County Health Services Agency Conducts Community Seasonal Flu Vaccination Clinics

Stanislaus County – The Stanislaus County Health Services Agency will begin its low-cost, community seasonal flu vaccination clinics on October 5th. The vaccine is intended to prevent the seasonal flu and is separate from the H1N1 (swine) flu. The first of these clinics will be in Modesto, at the Community Services Agency main lobby. HSA will conduct approximately 31 community clinics in 15 communities throughout Stanislaus County from Waterford to Newman. These clinics are specifically held to vaccinate people who are at high risk for serious health complications from the seasonal flu, including persons 50 years and older, children 6 months through 18 years, women who are pregnant during the flu season and individuals with high-risk heart and lung conditions, diabetes or asthma, as well as people who care for, live with, or have extended amounts of contacts with the individuals mentioned.

The vaccinations for the community clinics will be offered at a low administrative cost of $10 per child (6 months through 18 years) and $20 per adult (19 years and older). Payment may be made in cash or check, and can be covered by straight Medi-Cal and Medicare Part B. Those with Medicare Part B with a HMO supplemental health plan, such as Pacific Care Secure Horizons, Health Net Seniority Plus, and Kaiser Senior Advantage should receive vaccinations from their health care provider.

“The seasonal flu vaccine is an important and safe way to protect yourself and your loved ones against the seasonal flu.” states Dr. John Walker, Stanislaus County Public Health Officer. “Everyone 50 and over should get a flu shot this fall,” Walker said.

Health officials are reminding the public that the following people should receive the seasonal flu vaccine:

- Adults over 50
- Pregnant women
- Anyone with a chronic medical condition
- Children age 6 months through 18 years
- Anyone caring for, or living with, the above groups of people
- Health care workers

Attached is the community flu clinic schedule. The public can also visit the Public Health Flu Clinic located at 830 Scenic Drive, Suite C for seasonal flu shots. No appointments are necessary. Flu vaccine is also available from primary care physicians’ offices, as well as many local pharmacies.

This year the flu vaccine will offer protection against three strains A/Brisbane/59/2007 (H1N1)-like, A/Brisbane/10/2007 (H3N2)-like, and B/Brisbane/60/2008-like antigens.

For more information, the public can contact the Stanislaus County Health Services Agency’s Public Health Services hotline at 558-8872 or visit the HSA website at www.hsahealth.org.
